Mother and Child.

Let the mother take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil for the two; it is almost never superfluous.

One can eat for two; but nourishing food is a different thing; it implies a degree of interior strength not often found in woman of either extreme.

Luxurious people are not very strong by habit, and over-worked people are weak from exhaustion in some of their functions. Between the two is the happy mean; but how many women have plenty of life for two? The emulsion is almost never superfluous.

CONVICT IS KILLED.

NEGRO SLAIN AFTER BATTLE AT MICHIGAN CITY.

Tried to Brain Officer with an Iron Pipe—Shot Him to Death—Guard Bravely Fought His Brawny Assailant.

After a fierce battle with a desperate convict who assaulted him with an iron bar in a daring attempt to escape from the prison at Michigan City, Night Officer Herrick shot to death Monday night James Lee, a negro, sent up from St. Joseph county to serve a term of from two to fourteen years for larceny. The negro complained that waste water was running into his cell and asked Officer Herrick to remove him to another part of the prison. The officer complied with the convict's request and prepared another cell for him. When he returned for Lee and opened the cell door to enter and accompany him through the corridor, the negro, who had been crouching in a dark corner of the cell, sprang upon the officer and dealt him a heavy blow with a piece of iron pipe he had torn from his cell.

Unprepared for the sudden attack the officer was dazed, and before he could recover from the blow the negro, frenzied because he had failed to render his victim unconscious with the first blow, viciously struck the officer again. This time Herrick was expecting the blow and partially warded it off while he drew his pistol. Before his assailant could renew his attack the officer shot him twice, but the negro broke away and ran out of the hall. Herrick, bleeding from the deep wound in his head but determined to prevent the escape of the desperate convict, rushed after him and caught him at the foot of the stairs as he was trying to reach the upper corridor.

Here the second encounter took place. The now thoroughly enraged negro, who is a giant in stature, made a frantic attempt to brain the officer with the iron pipe. Failing in this he sprang away from him and turned, throwing the iron missile at Herrick's head, striking him and making an ugly wound. As the convict started up the stairs Officer Herrick shot him the third time, but the black man continued his flight up the steps. Following him, the officer overtook him again in the upper corridor. With a cry of rage the negro turned on him with the ferocity of a tiger.

To save himself from his brawny adversary, Herrick shot him the fourth time. This time the convict sank to the floor, fatally wounded and died within ten minutes.

Warden Shideier, who was in his office when the encounter took place, was immediately notified of the battle and hastened out into the corridor, reaching the scene just as the negro died.

Officer Herrick's injuries are painful, but it is thought that they will not result seriously.

The dead negro was one of the most vicious convicts in Michigan City prison. He had served time in the Iowa and Jackson penitentiaries in Michigan and the Eddyville (Ky.) prison. He was 30 years of age, six feet tall and weighed 172 pounds.

She was about 30 years of age and was the mother of two children, who survive her. She was an excellent woman and well known in this county and has a host of friends who will be sorry to hear of her untimely death.

The funeral occurred yesterday at the Dunkard church northeast of Inwood at 10 o'clock conducted by Rev. Sellers with interment in the Dunkard cemetery.

Dress Goods Fakers.

There are some fakers doing business in the country around Plymouth this week. DURBIN ATTACKED AGAIN.

Editor Campbell Talks of His Ambitions.

Editor Campbell, of the Anderson Herald, has made no attack for several days on Gov. Durbin, and Durbin's friends are saying that the editor's "sore toe" is healing. Mr. Campbell denies that there is any spirit of soreness in his criticisms, and he asserts in his editorial columns that he is not yet through with Colonel Durbin. Commenting on a paragraph in an Indianapolis newspaper, about Gov. Durbin being a possible candidate for United States senator, or else for vice-president, if his wires were not melted away in Anderson, editor Campbell says: Mr. Durbin's ground wires at Anderson are burned away. He swung loose from Anderson when he was elected governor, burned the bridges behind him, and as much as said, "I have no further use for the Republican party in Madison county." His favors to Anderson men so far have been to appoint Dr. H. W. Bennett to make a prayer on inauguration day and Captain W. R. Myers to a place on one of the state boards. Dr. Bennett is a good republican, while Captain Myers is one of the old-school democrats, who did all he could to defeat all the republicans, Mr. Durbin included. If Dr. Bennett had gone into the campaign and made speeches until he lost his voice, he would probably not have been allowed even to make a prayer outside the county.

Death of Mrs. Thomas Roberts.
